<<IERE and VDI Wissensforum signed a MOU for their co-operation >>

VDI Wissensforum is the education department of VDI (The Association of German Engineers) and a 100% daughter within VDI group, which has more than 150,000 members and one of the largest Technical-Scientific associations in Europe. They teach knowledge and competence pertaining practically almost all technological disciplines.

They host 1,000 events including technological conferences and congresses.

Based upon bilateral understanding of VDI Wissensforum and IERE, both of the organizations signed a Memorandum of Understanding in February 2014.
